Subject: Who wanted ARRL Antenna hndbk?

I believe someone was looking for an ARRL Antenna Handbook.

I received a catalog in mail yesterday with several for sale.

Please contact me if still needed.

Can you tell me some more about this catalog? Thanks.<

Hi Mike,

Sure. It's a 18-page list of old electronics, engineering and mathematic= s books, commercial and military manuals, ARRL pubs, magazines, catalogs, etc. They have the biggest collection of ARRL stuff I've ever run across= =2E =

They are strictly a mail-order outfit (no email or telephone). Name is Softwave Communications, 1515 Sashabaw, Ortonville, MI 48482. I think I sent them a $1 or $2 for the first catalog and an extra $.50 with an orde=
gets you the next one when it's published. Their prices are very reasonable (e.g. ARRL Handbooks for $6; Antenna Books for $3.50) and are based on condition. Example: 1943 Radio Engineering Handbook by Terman --

$8, poor; $15 good; $20 VG. I believe I ran across their ad in Amateur Radio Trader.

73,
Mike
